

NextOne / NextOne Premium Device Supplemental Agreement

This DEVICE SUPPLEMENTAL AGREEMENT in relation to the NextOne or NextOne Premium program, as applicable (the "Supplemental Agreement"), dated _____ is made between _____ (the "Subscriber"), and Logic Communications Ltd. (doing business under the trade names "One Communications Ltd." and "One") (hereafter referred to as "One") of 30 Victoria Street, Hamilton HM12, Bermuda.

One or One's authorized dealer, as applicable, agrees to make a wireless, television or other device as described below (the "Device") available to the Subscriber at a portion of the retail price if the Subscriber enrolls in One's minimum monthly service plan for the provision of services (such as the FibreWire Smart Bundle services or such other services, as determined, and as may be subject to change, by One from time to time), (the "Services") for a fixed period (the "Commitment Period") and be liable to pay for Services on a monthly basis during the Commitment Period. The Subscriber pays only a portion of the retail price of the Device on the day the Subscriber signs this Supplemental Agreement. The unpaid portion of the retail price of the Device remains on the Subscriber's NextOne Device Balance or NextOne Premium Device Balance, as applicable, (the "NextOne Balance"). The NextOne Balance decreases each month over the Commitment Period until it reaches $0.

By executing this Supplemental Agreement, the Subscriber agrees to be bound by the terms stated below and the One Terms of Service.

IT IS HEREBY AGREED AS FOLLOWS:

1. SUPPLEMENTAL TO THE TERMS OF SERVICE. This Supplemental Agreement is supplemental to and incorporates by reference the One Terms of Service. An electronic copy of the One Terms of Service can be found on our website: www.onecomm.bm.
2. HOW THIS SUPPLEMENTAL AGREEMENT WORKS. Subscribers purchasing a new Device from One or One's authorized dealer, as applicable, and enrolling in One's minimum monthly service plan can keep a NextOne Balance. If a Subscriber keeps a NextOne Balance, the Subscriber pays One or One's authorized dealer, as applicable, only a portion of the retail price of the Device on the day the Subscriber signs this Supplemental Agreement. The unpaid portion of the retail price of the Device is the NextOne Balance. The amount a Subscriber can put on the Subscriber's NextOne Balance may vary depending on whether the Subscriber is subscribing under the NextOne or NextOne Premium program, the monthly service plan selected and the Device chosen. If a Subscriber changes to a monthly service plan with a lower NextOne Balance the Subscriber must pay the difference between the Subscriber's NextOne Balance and the NextOne Balance for the new plan. If a Subscriber changes to a monthly service plan which does not meet the minimum monthly service plan requirement for keeping a NextOne Balance, the Subscriber must pay the outstanding NextOne Balance to One at the time the service plan is changed. In some cases, depending on the retail price of the Device, the Subscriber can put the full retail price of the Device on the Subscriber's NextOne Balance. The retail price, the portion of the price paid for the Device and the initial NextOne Balance are set out in this Supplemental Agreement. The NextOne Balance will decrease each month during the Commitment Period by an amount equal to the initial NextOne Balance divided by the number of months in the Commitment Period. At the end of the Commitment Period the NextOne Balance will reach $0 and the Subscriber will own the Device. A Subscriber can pay the NextOne Balance in full at any time during the Commitment Period. The NextOne Balance can only be used by the Subscriber and only one NextOne Balance can be established for each Device a Subscriber activates with One.
3. EXPIRY OF SUPPLEMENTAL AGREEMENT. This Supplemental Agreement shall be effective as of the date stated above and shall remain in effect during the Commitment Period, after which it shall expire. Upon expiry at the end of the Commitment Period, the NextOne Balance will reach $0 and the Subscriber shall have no further obligation in respect of the NextOne Balance.
4. EARLY WITHDRAWAL. In the event the Subscriber elects to withdraw from a Service at any time during the Commitment Period or the Subscriber's account is terminated by One in accordance with the One Terms of Service, the Subscriber must pay the outstanding NextOne Balance to One and all amounts chargeable on the account up to the time the service is cancelled. If the Subscriber fails to do so by the date specified, One has the right to charge interest on the outstanding NextOne Balance at the rate specified in the One Terms of Service. If the outstanding NextOne Balance is paid to One, the Subscriber can keep the Device.
5. DEVICE UPGRADES. The Subscriber is permitted to upgrade or replace the Device part way through the Commitment Period i.e. prior to the Expiry Date and purchase a new Device from One or One's authorized dealer, as applicable, at a portion of the retail price but to do so the Subscriber must, at the time of purchasing the new Device from One or One's authorized dealer, as applicable, repay the outstanding NextOne Balance. A new Commitment Period will commence when the Subscriber purchases a new Device from One or One's authorized dealer, as applicable, and signs a new Supplemental Agreement.
6. LOSS THEFT OR DAMAGE OF DEVICE. The Subscriber acknowledges that loss, theft of, or damage to, the Device shall not affect and shall have no consequence in respect of the Subscriber's obligations under this Supplemental Agreement. The Subscriber must still pay the outstanding NextOne Balance on a lost, stolen or damaged Device. Replacement Devices purchased from One or One's authorized dealer will be sold at the retail price unless the Subscriber signs a new Supplemental Agreement.
7. CHANGES TO TERMS. One reserves the right to modify or cancel this offer at any time. One will provide the Subscriber with 30 days' prior notice if One changes the terms and conditions of this Supplemental Agreement. If One cancels or modifies this Supplemental Agreement while a Subscriber has an outstanding NextOne Balance, the NextOne Balance will continue to decrease each month by an amount equal to the initial NextOne Balance divided by the number of months in the Commitment Period. The Subscriber will not be required to pay the outstanding NextOne Balance except as otherwise described in this Supplemental Agreement.
